Real-time transit-based travel platform for foreign visitors in Chuncheon

PROBLEM

Independent travelers search for transport first, and hit a digital wall.

INSIGHT

Eight in ten now travel independently, yet the transport info they need is lost behind language and app barriers.

MARKET BACKGROUND

The inbound market is back at an all-time high, and it already reaches Chuncheon.

USER RESEARCH X FIELD RESEARCH

Travelers named the problem, and we went to Chuncheon to see it.

Getting around

"A ten-minute ride takes about forty minutes by bus."

Google review, Chuncheon Station

Language

"The bus drivers only speak Korean, so you're out of luck."

TripAdvisor, Legoland

Info & payment

"Naver Map in English feels like a treasure hunt, not a map."

FIELD FINDINGS, 2026.07.21

One bus in that hour
at Soyang Art Circle stop.

Korean-only signage
at the downtown stop.

INSIGHT

The slow buses and language barriers travelers report online are the same ones we saw on the ground.

WHY CHUNCHEON

1.03M come to Chuncheon, but only a few of them reached downtown.

INSIGHT

1.03M already reach Chuncheon, but with no way around the city, they leave before spending a single day at the downtown.

TARGET & PERSONAS

One couldn't read the bus stop. One couldn't get her family and her bags into a single taxi.

"I booked the room, but nobody tells me in English how to get anywhere from here."

PAIN POINTS

- English search returns nothing. Naver Map in English feels like a treasure hunt.
- Train, bus and map data sit in five different apps
- No way to tell which places are worth it, and the risk is all his

NEEDS

- To see where to go, by what transport, and how long it takes, all in English
- To pull the scattered pieces into one plan on one screen
- To build a day only from places others have already proven

Anucha

34, Chiang Mai, traveling with her parents and two kids

USER STORY

"There are five of us with suitcases. One taxi is too small, and the next bus is thirty minutes away."

PAIN POINTS

- She has to move five people and their bags, and one taxi won't take them
- She spends the day carrying luggage instead of showing her parents the city
- Her parents, her kids and she want three different days

NEEDS

- A vehicle sized to her party, waiting where they stand
- To drop the bags once and move light for the rest of the day
- To build one course that works for all three generations

SOLUTION

GTS is a smart mobility platform linking Chuncheon's attractions with personalized routes.

PLAN THE RIDE

Real transit data,
readable in English

- Train and intercity bus times from the national TAGO API
- Every leg on one screen, no app switching
- Routes and durations written in the traveler's language

MATCH THE RIDE

A vehicle sized to the party and the bags

- Party size and luggage decide taxi or van
- Dispatched to where the group is standing
- Luggage stored so the day starts light

BUILD THE DAY

A course the traveler assembles, not a fixed tour

- Meals, spaces and activities picked one by one
- Each place carries its story, reviews and details
- One day that fits a solo traveler or three generations

"Once you land, your vehicle is waiting, and the day goes as you decided"

COMPETITIVE EDGE

Among five existing services, not one lets a foreign traveler finish a journey alone.

PROTOTYPE

Independent travelers search for transport first, and hit a digital wall.

1 Trip Planner

You set your departure point and time, and get live train and bus routes to Chuncheon from the national TAGO API.

2 Party & Luggage

You enter headcount and bag count, and a taxi or a van is matched to that.

3 Course Builder

You open each place's detail panel, then add the ones you want to your own course.

4 Route Confirmed

The places you added are drawn as one ordered route on the map, run by the vehicle matched in step 2.

USABILITY EVALUATION

23 international travelers completed an unscripted MVP test.

Who

- 23 international testers
- USA, Thailand, Vietnam, Germany, Kyrgyzstan
- Google sign-in with real accounts, no anonymous entries

How

- Free exploration of the deployed service, no script
- Every session stored in the DB, reviewable on the dashboard
- Written feedback collected per tester

TRACTION

They told us what was missing, and we get improved by their feedbacks.

The same testers who listed the problems said they would travel with it.

GO TO MARKET

Gangwon Tourist Taxi for Foreigners is a public program. Its operator is re-selected every year.

Program office interview(22.07.2026)

Program office confirmation

- This year's operator is under contract, so immediate connection is closed.
- We will submit a formal proposal for next year's program, and the office confirmed it will be reviewed for collaboration.

Step flow

MARKET SIZE

We scale only where three conditions are present.

How each figure is built

- Same procurement benchmark applied
- ₩139.86M per municipality
- 243, 18 and 3 × the benchmark

Why cities buy

- Better visitor mobility increases local spending and lengthens stays.

Public budget signals

- ₩11.55B (2024 Smart Tourism City budget)
- ₩139.86M (KTO smart-tourism project)

Where it goes next

- Chuncheon → Gangwon → Nationwide → Abroad
- Template: transit API, brand database, language layer

The traveler's day is the product.
The city's budget is the market.

Estimate based on the KTO smart-tourism project benchmark (₩139.86M). Actual contract value varies by scope and operating period.

IMPACT

One run pays a local shop, carries a traveler downtown, and holds four partners together.

Decent Work & Economic Growth

- Travelers routed to local restaurants, cafés and markets across the city
- New multilingual host and customer support roles
- Higher utilization for existing tourist taxi drivers

Sustainable Cities & Communities

- A route from the station into the downtown, where none ran before
- One vehicle for a group instead of separate rides
- Language barrier removed from local transit

Partnerships for the Goals

- Built on the city's tourist taxi program and national transit API
- Connects local brands, tourism offices and a university team

Every run we add sends a visitor into a Chuncheon local brand that a tour bus never stops at.

TEAM

Six people cover build, design, planning, operations, education and a global lens, all in-house.
